

Creamy Chicken Chili

SERVES 8
35 MINUTES

A creamy one-pot chili made with the canned chicken, beans, tomatoes, and green chiles from this grocery order.

Equipment: large pot with lid; can opener; colander; spoon; whisk

CHILI BASE

- Cooked canned chicken breast, drained - 2 x 12.5 oz cans
- No-salt-added black beans, drained and rinsed - 2 x 15.5 oz cans
- No-salt-added kidney beans, drained and rinsed - 2 x 15.5 oz cans
- Diced tomatoes with juices - 1 x 14.5 oz can
- Whole-kernel corn, drained and rinsed - 1 x 15 oz can
- Mild chopped green chiles - 1 x 4 oz can
- Fresh pre-diced yellow onion - 5 oz
- Unsalted chicken bone broth - 4 cups (32 fl oz)
- Taco seasoning - 2 x 1 oz packets

CREAMY FINISH

- Cream cheese, cubed - 8 oz
- Mexican-blend shredded cheese, for topping - 8 oz

METHOD

1. Open and drain the cooked canned chicken breast (2 x 12.5 oz cans). Drain and rinse the no-salt-added black beans (2 x 15.5 oz cans), no-salt-added kidney beans (2 x 15.5 oz cans), and whole-kernel corn (1 x 15 oz can). Open the diced tomatoes (1 x 14.5 oz can, keep juices) and mild chopped green chiles (1 x 4 oz can). Cube the cream cheese (8 oz).
2. In a large pot, combine the fresh pre-diced yellow onion (5 oz), unsalted chicken bone broth (4 cups), diced tomatoes with juices (1 x 14.5 oz can), mild chopped green chiles (1 x 4 oz can), and taco seasoning (2 x 1 oz packets). Bring to a boil, then cover and simmer over medium-low heat for 8 minutes to soften the onion.
3. Stir in the drained cooked canned chicken breast (2 x 12.5 oz cans), rinsed no-salt-added black beans (2 x 15.5 oz cans), rinsed no-salt-added kidney beans (2 x 15.5 oz cans), and rinsed whole-kernel corn (1 x 15 oz can). Simmer uncovered for 12-15 minutes, stirring occasionally, until the chili is hot throughout and the chicken reaches 165 F.
4. Reduce heat to low. Whisk in cubed cream cheese (8 oz) until fully melted and smooth, about 3-5 minutes. Divide among 8 bowls and top with Mexican-blend shredded cheese (8 oz total).

MAKE AHEAD: Refrigerate leftovers promptly and reheat until steaming hot.

Adapted from Budget Bytes Chicken Taco Soup by Jess Rice; quantities match the ordered chili ingredients.